

Corporate Membership

Technology in Music Education U.K. (TiME) offers Corporate Membership to companies who make, distribute and sell music technology products. Membership allows access to educators from Early Years, through to University level. It helps to make a greater number of potential customers aware of your products and services. It also offers direct connections with other organisations, education establishments and teachers to aid research and development.

Due to TiME's affiliation with 'Joint Audio Music Education Services' (JAMES), Corporate Membership includes access to engage with many Universities and their students.
